

The background image shows a large industrial machine with a red upper section and a black lower section. Several circular nozzles are mounted on the red section, spraying a fine mist of air or coolant downwards. The machine appears to be part of a manufacturing process, possibly for metal parts.

e-save

comprehensive efficiency

Radial Quenching System:

- Air consumption: -80%
- Energy savings: 46%
- Waste reduction: 50%

EvoQuench

ærlikon
barmag